What's New In?

Now we have a bouncing ball that we can actually keep on our desk for all our gaming pleasure. It's a fully customisable bouncing ball, based on the Go Go Redball! Widget. Instead of just showing a redball bouncing, we can make it look completely customisable, like this: How to install: Open up the V3 file and drag the GoGoBall.exe to your desktop. What's new in version 3: The support for 64-bit Dummy version of .Net Framework is included New graphic design New C# and VB language support Most of the language support (except a few) are there, but without any sample code. How to use: You just press the button and there you go! This software is freeware, provided you have Windows 95/98/Me/2000/XP/Vista/7 and a 64-bit machine. You can download the setup here. Note: All links on this page are direct download links for the.zip file. In case that there is a direct download link for the CD-Rom or DVD-Rom, this has been added to the bottom of this page. This program will not run in 32-bit machines, or if you have any 32-bit version of Windows. This program is fully compatible with Windows 95, Windows 98, Windows Me and Windows 2000. But if you try to run it in Windows XP or Windows Vista, it will not work properly. This program has no virus in it. You can install and run it in every antivirus package. If you don't have an antivirus package, you can download one of the free ones. If you have any comments, suggestions or ideas, you can write me an e-mail at allen@allenandr.net. Or send me a line on IRC (I use PircBot2). Or you can write me a short message on MIGRATE or BOUNCE, or you can post it on Facebook or on the GoGoBall website. Credits: This is a GoGoBall customisation I have made for the community, and therefore I would like to thank the following people: Jos. Django Phil Jon Claes Olivia Floyd Eric Chong Alex Let's go!
